Forensic Classroom: Enhancing STEM Proficiency with Detective Science

This five-day workshop is for educators who want to use crime scene investigation material to engage their students in the science curriculum. The hands-on program will help educators understand the tools, techniques and scientific principles of crime scene investigations.

Forensic Classroom goes beyond simply providing information about criminal investigations. The course material is designed to assist teachers in meeting the National Science Education Standards for developing meaningful, high-interest, inquiry-based classroom activities involving real-world problem solving.

Participants will draw on the practical knowledge and abilities of experienced law enforcement officers in order to become familiar with content that will captivate the imagination and interest of their students.
